Final Report on Spring Creek Habitat Project

If you fish Spring Creek you owe Joe Boston a big Bravo Zulu (navy talk for "well done!"). Unless you have visited the recent Spring Creek Habitat Improvement Project at the PSU sheep farm, you can't appreciate the amount of planning, coordinating, supervising and just plain sweating needed to complete that project. And on top of it all was Joe Boston. He was there every day organizing people and material, making sure that everything moved smoothly. He even cooked the burgers for the starving, wet and muddy workers! Be sure to thank Joe the next time you see him.

The following people and organizations donated to the stream improvement project:

Ann Donovan, Watershed Specialist, CCCD

Katie Ombalski, Clearwater Conservancy

Mark R. Roberts, Biologist US Fish and Wildlife Service

Adam Smith, Fencing Coordinator, US Fish and Wildlife Service

Dr. Robert Carline

Davild L. Keller, Stream Habitat Manager, PA F&B Commission

Jason Detar, Biologist, PA F&B Commission

These volunteers pounded rebar, cut planks, carried stones, floated logs, ate hamburgers, wistfully watched rising trout and had a fun time under the guidance of Joe Boston:

Draft Minutes of August SCTU Board Meeting

Board of Directors Spring Creek Chapter of Trout Unlimited

Meeting of August 13, 2007 7:30 p.m.
Comfort Inn, State College, PA

Board members present: Jay Lynch, Jere Willey, Dick Stevenson, Ted Trostle, Allen Phillips, Bob Donaldson and Bob Eberhart. Also present were Joe Boston and Bill Palmer.

Treasurer's Report. Jere Willey presented his Treasurer's Report that showed total assets of $43,137 as of Aug. 13. He said that the Chapter should get a report from Molly Hetrick of Centre Region Parks and Rec. Department about the 2007 First Cast Camp. He said that the Chapter should get more credit for financially supporting the Camp. He suggested that next year some Chapter members should meet with Parks and Rec about the Camp Program. It was noted that Chapter members had not been very active this year in assisting with the instruction phase of the Camp.

Sheep Farm Habitat Project. Joe Boston provided an update on the Sheep Farm Habitat Project. Work will be carried out August 20-23. Jere Willey asked that an itemized bill for Chapter expenses for the project be provided. Joe said that such a bill would come from the University of California of Pa.

Joe said that he would like to make a Power Point presentation to a membership meeting of the Chapter. Dick Stevenson and Jay Lynch volunteered to assist with preparing the presentation. Joe said that at the end of the project he would like to send thank you notes to all cooperators, donors of materials and volunteers; Bob Eberhart agreed to help with this. An adequate number of volunteers have signed up for daytime work for all four days, but only one person volunteered for evening work so Joe Boston will assign jobs for the after 5 pm shift. More volunteers may become available when PSU students return.

World Youth Flyfishing Tournament and Conservation Symposium. Allen Phillips reported on the Tournament recently held on local waters, including Spring Creek. He reported that ten teams, each with 5 members had participated. The French team placed first, the Czech Republic second and England third. The U. S. team made a creditable showing. The Tournament included a Conservation Symposium, which featured two speakers from the Fish and Boat Commission and Ken Undercoffer, President of Pennsylvania Trout Unlimited. Allen felt that overall the Tournament was worthwhile and that it did include an element of teaching conservation to the participants. He said that if the tournament is held here again the TU Board should be more active in preparations leading up to the Tournament.

Spring Creek Canyon. Bob Donaldson reported on the current status of the Spring Creek Canyon discussions. He said that representatives of ClearWater had met with the Centre County delegation of State Representatives, Sen. Corman, and representatives of Penn State and DCNR, and there was agreement on the concept of ClearWater holding conservation easement(s) on the Canyon properties, regardless of who eventually became the owner(s). He also reported that Rep. Mike Hanna had introduced an amendment to a previously introduced land transfer bill; the amendment would authorize transfer of parts of the Canyon land to Penn State, Benner Township and the Fish and Boat Commission.

This amendment had been stopped by opposition organized by ClearWater and the Sierra Club-backed Spring Creek Alliance. The House State Government Committee has said that it will hold a Public Hearing in Centre County on this issue, probably in mid-September.

It was agreed that the Chapter should: 1) plan on making a statement at the Public Hearing, and 2) that the Chapter should attempt to set up a meeting with representatives of the Sierra Club and ClearWater to attempt to identify some common ground in their positions on the Canyon so that they might present a more unified front. Bob Eberhart will attempt to organize this meeting.

Request from Penns Valley Conservation Association (PVCA) for support for mine permit appeal.

The chapter received a request from Tom Doman of the PCVA asking for 1) financial support for legal expenses for their appeal of a permit for expansion of the Con-Stone quarry near Aaronsburg, and 2)for attendees at the hearing of the Environmental Hearing Board on the appeal set for Sept. 17-20 in Harrisburg. Allen Phillips agreed to provide information on the appeal to John Shaffer for publication in the Chapter newsletter. A motion to provide $500 to PVCA in support of this appeal was approved unanimously.

Respectfully submitted,
Robert Eberhart
Secretary
