The Newsletter of the Spring Creek Chapter of Trout Unlimited

November, 2013 Volume 36, Issue 8

Date Change: January Meeting

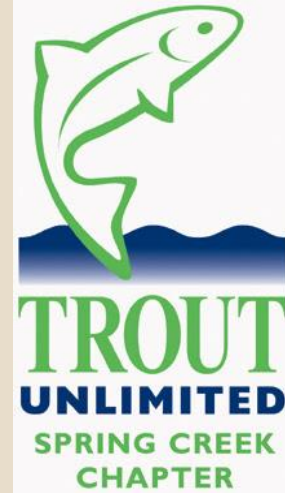

The first Thursday of 2014 is January 2nd, so the Board of Directors decided to postpone the general meeting one week to January the 9th. Please note that this meeting will also be the election of the Board of Directors. At this point, the following Board Members have been renominated to the Board:

Mark Pencak (meeting coordinator)
Rick Van Horn (Treasurer)
Paula Sowers (membership)
Scott Brumbaugh (Secretary)
Robert Vierck (Vice President)

In addition, Jim Lanning has been nominated.

There are several additional board openings, and if you would like to nominate or are willing to serve please contact Judi Sittler (pres@springcreektu.org) or Bob Vierck (vpres@springcreektu.org).

All nominees will be posted in the December Tertiary Treatment. Remember that nominations may also be made at the January meeting.

Volunteer of the Month - Art Kempf

Art Kempf with Tyler Neimond

Art is the volunteer's volunteer. Art has participated in every project work day since 2004. He always carries more than his load - and all project managers attempt to schedule work at times when Art is available. A retired executive from Kimberly-Clark, he moved to State College from Wisconsin - our gain and their loss. Art is the author of "Down on the Farm - things are looking up for Spring Creek's wild trout" an article in the 2008, Summer PA Trout publication (Click Here). He also authored "Spring Creek Chapter TU - Grants and Habitat Projects 1999 - 2012" (Click Here). In addition, Art is an accomplished fly tyer and instructor, as well as a fabulous baker. He is famous for his Apple Walnut Cake!!

Jim Lanning - Chairman of Banquet Committee

The banquet committee is hard at work planning the 41st Annual SCCTU Banquet and Fundraiser. Jim is working with his committee to make this one of the best in our history. Members of the Committee are: Judi Sittler, Paula Sowers, Dave Dudukovitch, Rick Van Horn, Scott Brumbaugh, Lynn Mitchell, Mark Pencak, and Bob Vierck.

in Benner Springs. Volunteers from TU chapters, PATU, and Fish & Boat work together to bring brook trout eggs to 250 classrooms throughout Pennsylvania. Our chapter has four teachers "under our wing."

The newest teacher is Nick Reitz at Park Forest Elementary School. The other two teachers are Joe Walker at Mt. Nittany Middle School and Jade Thompson at Bald Eagle High School.

SCCTU Endowment

In 2013, the Spring Creek Chapter of Trout Unlimited established an Endowment Fund through the Centre Foundation. By contributing to the SCCTU's endowment, donors can make a lasting difference for the Spring Creek Watershed. More information regarding the Centre Foundation can be found at www.centre-foundation.org For more information regarding the SCCTU Endowment Click Here

Riparian Planting at Lower McCoy Bank Stabilization Project

The Spring Creek Chapter of Trout Unlimited Endowment Fund conserve, protects, and restores Spring Creek and its tributaries. It is essential to the future of the watershed that we continue this support into the future.

New Zealand Mudsnail in Spring Creek

The Board is exploring the possible placing signage along Spring Creek.

The Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission (PFBC) confirmed the presence of the aquatic invasive species known as New Zealand mudsnail (Potamopyrgus antipodarum) in Spring Creek, Centre County.

New Zealand mudsnails are small, measuring less than one-quarter inch, with a long, narrow, coiled shell with deep grooves. Like other aquatic invasive species, they disrupt ecosystems by rapidly multiplying and competing with native species for space and food.

The PFBC is reminding anglers and boaters that cleaning their gear is the easiest, most effective means of preventing its spread to other waters.

New Zealand mudsnails require some specialized disinfection measures. Gear should be visually inspected and any clinging matter should be removed and disposed of in the trash. To kill mudsnails, three methods are effective. Gear can be frozen for a minimum of six hours, or it can be soaked in hot water - 120°F to 140°F - for five minutes. This last method is not recommended for Gortex.

Mudsnails can also be killed by soaking gear for five minutes in a one-to-one solution of Formula 409® Cleaner Degreaser Disinfectant and water. After soaking gear for five minutes, thoroughly rinse it with plain water. Simply spraying gear with the disinfectant or the mixture does not work. Also, general cleaners have not been shown to be effective against the mudsnail.

For more information about New Zealand mudsnail, visit http://www.paseagrant.org/fact_sheet_group/invasive-species/

Our Mission

The mission of Spring Creek Trout Unlimited is to conserve, protect, and restore Spring Creek's coldwater fishery and watershed.
